

CALL FOR PAPERS

31st Colloquium on Pensions and Retirement Research
5-6 December 2023 at UNSW Sydney/Australia
7 December 2023, online session

The 31st Colloquium on Pensions and Retirement Research will be held in person at UNSW Sydney on 5-6 December 2023. The Colloquium will also host an online session on 7 December 2023, sponsored by the International Pension Research Association (IPRA).

The Colloquium, co-hosted by the ARC Centre of Excellence in Population Ageing Research (CEPAR) and the School of Risk & Actuarial Studies, UNSW Business School, is a unique annual event, bringing together academics (from economics, finance, actuarial studies and related disciplines), government and industry to discuss the latest research on pensions, superannuation and retirement.

Submissions to be included in the program of the 31st Colloquium on Pensions and Retirement Research and the IPRA sponsored online session are specifically invited on:

- Decumulation and retirement income (including defaults)
- Financial advice, guidance and engagement
- Cognitive decline and financial decisions of older adults
- ESG, climate risk and superannuation/pensions

Contributions are also welcome on other topics, which may include but are not limited to: Public pensions and sustainable fiscal policy; taxation of superannuation/pensions; superannuation/pensions and labour markets; regulation and performance of superannuation/pension funds; use of housing assets in old age; financing aged care costs; choice architecture and defaults; financial product disclosure; financial literacy and financial education; longevity and healthy life expectancy; and gender issues in superannuation/pensions.

Early career researchers and research students (including PhD, Masters and Honours students) are particularly encouraged to make a submission. A cash prize will be awarded for the 'Best Student Presentation.'

A Submission Form is available online at cepar.edu.au/colloquium2023.
