24-25 November 2025, UNSW Sydney, Australia

UNSW
SYDNEY

The 33rd Colloquium on Pensions and Retirement Research will be held at UNSW Sydney on 24-25 November 2025. Co-hosted by the Centre for Population Ageing Research (CEPAR) and the School of Risk & Actuarial Studies at UNSW Business School, the Colloquium brings together academics (from economics, finance, actuarial studies, and related disciplines), government and industry to discuss cutting-edge research on pensions, superannuation, and retirement.

Submissions are specifically invited on the following topics:

- The retirement phase, including drawdown of retirement savings
- Financial decision-making support, including advice, nudges and AI/digital tools
- Retirement investing amid geopolitical and climate risk
- Pensions and population ageing in Asia

We also welcome contributions on other pensions and retirement topics, including:

- Retirement income products and strategies
- Use of AI/machine learning in retirement planning and pension fund management
- Financial literacy & education
- Cognitive decline & financial decision-making
- Aged care & long-term care financing
- Home equity release
- Longevity & healthy ageing
- Climate risks in pension & retirement planning
- Equity & fairness in superannuation/pensions
- Regulation, taxation, and governance of superannuation/pension funds
- Public pensions and fiscal sustainability
- Superannuation/pensions and labour markets

Early career researchers and research students (PhD, Masters, Honours) are especially encouraged to make a submission. A cash prize will be awarded for the 'Best Student Presentation'.

Submission deadline: 15 July 2025

To submit, please email the following to cepar@unsw.edu.au:

1. Completed submission form (available at cepar.edu.au)
2. Abstract (max. 300 words) and short bio(s) of presenting author(s)
3. Full paper or one-page (single-spaced) extended abstract

For queries or to discuss a potential topic, please contact Associate Professor Katja Hanewald at k.hanewald@unsw.edu.au.
